

Optional supplementary material for:

The World's Story, Volume 1 - The Story of the Ancients

Please note that many of the historical novels based during this time period is, at best, extremely loosely based on actual historical events. Please use caution when choosing books for your young children's independent reading if using this course as a family learning experience. Many of the resources I recommend for this historical period do not fall in the historical fiction genre. Instead I have listed below the materials that my family has used to supplement our studies of the ancients.

For elementary age:

Tut's Mummy, Lost and Found

The Greek News

The Roman News

Archaeologists Dig for Clues

Illustrated Family Bible Stories (Master Books)

For upper elementary through jr. high:

Twice Freed

The Bronze Bow

The Golden Goblet

Although these books are not set during this time period, I highly recommend Patricia St. John's books: Treasures in the Snow, The Tanglewood Secrets, and Star of Light.

The 10 Minute Bible Journey MB

For high school level:

The Westminster Shorter Catechism by G.I. Williamson

Experiencing God Day by Day (Devotion book) by Henry and Richard Blackaby

Landmark book: The Pharaohs of Egypt

For in-depth Apologetics, Apologetics in Action (Curriculum Pack for 10th-12th gr.)MB

Family Resources:

The Archaeology Book [MB]

Unwrapping the Pharaohs [MB]

Giants, Flood Myths, and Dragons [3 books from MB]

DVDs

Drive thru History: The Holy Lands series - 4 DVDs & The World History series - 4 DVDs

Animals that Defy Evolution (set of 4 DVDs)

Any and all Master Books and Answers in Genesis DVDs and movies

Movies the whole family would enjoy:

Ben Hur

Ten Commandments

The Prince of Egypt

Joseph - King of Dreams
